

Montana Farm Bureau Federation's ACE Leadership Program is designed to empower Farm Bureau members to be confident, effective leaders in their county Farm Bureau and local communities. Rural Montana needs strong leadership. We need school board members, local government officials and energetic county Farm Bureau volunteers. ACE participants will refine and establish premiere leadership skills to prepare them for their next leadership step.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

ACE participants will receive in-depth leadership development training along with practical application strategies. More than that, ACE participants will learn to identify the needs of their own communities and the role they, and Farm Bureau, have in serving those needs. Without a vibrant, healthy grassroots foundation we cannot profoundly affect change on the policy issues impacting agriculture.

The focus of the program is built around 3 primary objectives...

1. Developing Leaders
2. Engaging Local Communities
3. Issues Advocacy

Upon completion of the program, graduates will have gained skills and understanding in the following areas...

- Advocacy
- Active Listening
- Public Speaking
- Coalition Building
- Industry Issues & Public Policy
- Conflict Management
- Communicating with Media and Non-Ag Audiences
